Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 26 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Very mild but breezy, with rain at times.

This Evening and Tonight:
Some evening clear spells in the east, otherwise remaining cloudy and windy for most through the evening and overnight period. Generally dry but rain and drizzle likely turning persistent across the Pennines. Very mild. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Wednesday:
Remaining very mild, windy and generally cloudy. Long periods of rain, heavy at times across western hills, but drier further east with some brightness possible. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Staying mild, cloudy and breezy at times, particularly on Friday. Spells of rain are likely during the period, especially across western hills where rain will be heavy at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.